

Hold Me Bag Photos & Review – Traveling in Style & Bulk

Posted on March 17, 2013

The Hold Me Bag is a beauty aficionados answer to traveling in style while traveling in bulk. Makeup bulk that is. The simple black bag with the fancy tie in the front might look small, but when you extend it out you can pack every single drop of makeup you need and likely more.

What the Hold Me website says about the Hold Me Bag in Beauty Stars:

Starbursts of complementary bright colors go pop on a medium pink background. Everyday is a celebration.

Expandable center section holds multiple palettes and makeup items of various shapes and sizes. Removable bottom liner can be used outside the bag or to separate palettes.

Fully opened, everything is at a glance and easy to access; streamlines and saves time with daily makeup routine.

Covered brush section has 15 sleeves; some hold single brushes and some multiple brushes and tools; protects brushes, as they stay upright, fresh and safely stored. Maximum brush length: 9".

Exterior and parts of interior made of vegan suede fabric; interior highlights of wipe-clean laminated cotton print. Both fabrics are easy to clean and durable.

The Hold Me bag is large enough to hold everything you need to stay beautiful during your travels. This bag is a cinch to keep clean, is sturdy and protects all of your makeup valuables for travel.

I couldn't believe the palettes I could fit in there with room to spare. It didn't look like it could hold as much as it did stacked, but it DOES. To give you an idea of how much this bag holds, here are a few shots (two UD OZ palettes stacked and MORE). I actually could have stacked the Naked 2 palette on top of the naked and still been able to shut this bag. So FOUR large UD palettes stacked and I still had half of the main compartment to fill.

I placed some of my larger brushes into the brush holder and as you can see on the right, two even fit in to one pocket. What this means is all of my brushes will fit in here for my trip. Also, I need to buy more brushes to fill this up 😊
I plan on taking this to NYC with me for IMATS 😊 I plan to intentionally over-pack makeup. So, stay tuned!

The Hold Me Bag retails for $85.00 and is available on the Hold Me website. Also available is a smaller version – the Hold Me Baby Bag – for $55.00.

Love the inside of this bag, soo cute. Really surprised at how much this seemingly small bag can actually hold. Very impressive.
